 Volume XI, Issue 25

16 And they came with haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger. 17 Now when they had seen Him, they made widely known the saying which was told them concerning this Child. 18 And all those who heard it marveled at those things which were told them by the shepherds...20 Then the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told them. (Luke 2:16-18, 20)

The shepherds were first to hear the good news about Jesus' birth. The Bible says they were terrified, but it is still hard to imagine what was going through their mind when the sky was filled with a multitude of angels. What is abundantly clear is how they responded to the news with zero hesitation.

The shepherds immediately pursued the Savior. After they encountered Jesus, they could not keep it to themselves. They shared the good news with others. People were astonished at the witness of the shepherds. They left Jesus changed men, praising God for everything they had heard & seen.

When it comes to worship & obedience, believers can learn a lot from the shepherds. When we hear God's Word, do we respond immediately? Are we excited about telling others about our encounter with Jesus? Do our lives reflect the radical transformation that happens when we receive Him as Savior?
