From the Pastor

*"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."
 -Philippians 4:13 (NKJV)*

During my years of ministry, I have observed 2 extremes when it comes to believers ministering in the local church. On one hand, there are believers who say the work is too hard. Since the work appears too hard, they give it half-hearted effort because they really don't believe the work can be done anyway. On the other hand, there are believers who are determined to get the work done regardless of how hard it may appear. They dive in head first & work incredibly hard. But after a while, they wear themselves out and give up.

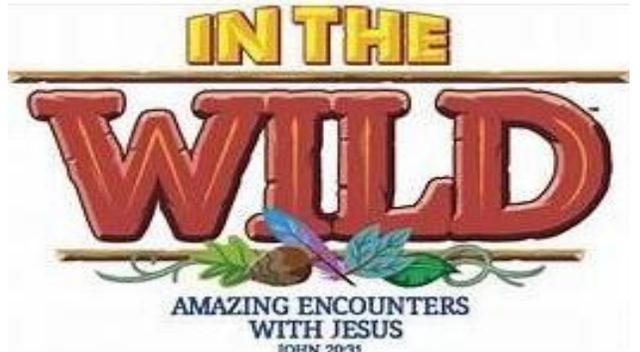

Paul explains to the Philippians that he had experienced a wide variety of circumstances. Some were tough, but others seemed very fluid & easy. However, Paul understood that, without Jesus working through him in the power of the Holy Spirit, he could accomplish nothing...regardless of his circumstances.

An important key to successful ministry is understanding who does the work. Apart from Jesus, we can do nothing. Apart from the Spirit working through us with the Spiritual gifts He has given us, our work will be futile. Before we begin any work in the ministry, let's be sure we are allowing God to do His work through us rather than trying to do it in our own strength.
