It is hard to believe August is already here. Time seems to move faster & faster. The past few months have been the most interesting time I can remember.

So, what are we doing with our time? Most of us don't spend enough time with the Lord. We go to church one...two...maybe three times a week & we might concentrate on Him while we are there. But what about the other days of the week? God wants us to know Him. He actively speaks to us through His inspired, inerrant, infallible Word (Heb 4:12) & speaks to us in prayer. The more we know God & walk with Him daily, the more we will love, worship & want serve Him. We will better understand His worth in our lives & give Him the attention & time He deserves.
